DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claims 2-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Joao, (U.S. 6,283,761).

2. As per claims 2 and 5, Joao discloses a method of preparing and fulfilling a medication prescription written by a physician for a patient at the time of physical examination comprising the steps of:
 - A. providing a patient with a personal memory card (PMC) having a stored memory, wherein said stored memory includes at least the patient's personal information, consulting physician information, and a preferred pharmacy information, (Joao, col. 7, lines 16-23; col. 10, lines 61-65; col. 16, line 38-col. 17, line 24; col. 39, lines 37- col. 40, lines 12)(describing all claimed information as being stored and processed within main database, and being transferable for storage and/or processing and real-time updating to periphery P.D.A. devices and I.D. cards via wireless internet).

Art Unit: 3626

- B. reading said stored memory into a first PMC reader/writer from said PMC and viewably presenting said stored memory on a personal digital assistant (PDA), (Joao, col. 14, lines 49-58; col. 40, lines 3-12);
- C. modifying said stored memory of said PMC by a physician via entry on said PDA to include a new medication prescription to form an updated stored memory in conjunction with a physical examination of the patient by the physician, (Joao, col. 19, lines 12-20, 31-40);
- D. reading said updated stored memory of said PMC via a second PMC reader into to an office computer of the physician, said office computer programmed to electronically transfer said updated stored memory to a central host server, (Joao, fig. 2, col. 15, line 59-col. 16, line 18; col. 19, lines 12-20, 31-40; col. 40, lines 3-12)(reference discloses that all system components can have card reader/writers);
- E. transferring said updated stored memory to the host server via the Internet, (Joao, col. 15, lines 18-46);
- F. transmitting a prescription fulfillment request electronically by said host server for the new medication prescription contained within said updated stored memory to the preferred pharmacies, said host server configured for electronically transmitting said request, (Joao, fig. 2; col. 12, line 58- col. 13, line 7; col. 16, lines 19-32)(disclosing that a pharmacist is a form of provider);
- G. transmitting a confirmation electronically from one of the pharmacies selected in step F back to said office computer advising that any new prescriptions are fulfilled, (Joao, col. 31, line 66-col. 32, line 45)(notification is considered to be conformation).

H. electronically transmitting information regarding the examination and the new medication prescription to the patient's insurer, (Joao, col. 36, line 66-col. 37, line 21).

3. As per claims 3, 4, 6, and 7 these system claims contain essentially the same limitations as corresponding method claims 2 and 5 and are therefore rejected on the same basis as claims 2 and 5. The citations applied against method claims 2 and 5 are hereby incorporated against claims 3, 4, 6 and 7 by reference.

Furthermore, system claims 3, 4, 6 and 7 contain non-functional descriptive material that fails to further limit the disclosed systems. For example, see claim 3 stating: "data stored on the stored memory, said data including the patient's personal information, consulting physician information, and preferred pharmacy information". The claimed information stored on the modifiable stored memory fails to further limit the claimed system because when the prior art describes all the claimed structural and functional relationships between the descriptive material and the substrate, but the prior art describes a different descriptive material than the claim, then the descriptive material is non-functional and will not be given any patentable weight. System claims 4, 6 and 7 are replete with similar non-functional limitations.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure is as follows: Mayaud, (U.S. 5,845,255); Mayaud, (U.S.
